Construction Keeps Pace With Figures of Last Year

New construction in Palm Springs rose to $1,546,100 during the first two months of 1958 as city officials counted $403,550 worth of new building projects for the month of February.

City Building Department officials registered 66 building permits in the past month, but construction totals fell below the $599,150 tabulated in February, 1957.

PALM SPRINGS construction reached $1,142,550 in January this year.

Thor Launched Today; New Nose Cone Used

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — A Thor intermediate range missile, carrying a new nose cone designed to return a nuclear warhead from space and smash an enemy target, was launched with a mighty blast today.

The new technique, although perfected for military purposes, also might lead to licking the re-entry problem of a man-made satellite.

The trim missile, its blunt and rounded nose cone glistening in the bright morning sun, blasted up from the Cape Canaveral launching site a few minutes after 5 a.m. p.m. A great cloud of smoke and fire boiled up from the launching pad.

The missile slashed through a layer of clouds after 40 seconds of flight but was visible again for about 20 seconds before it disappeared, trailing vapor, behind more clouds.

HAVE YOU BEEN COUNTED? IF NOT FILL OUT FORM

Have the census enumerators counted you? In an effort to make as complete a census as possible, Vernon L. Miller, special census supervisor, has authorized the printing of a form, which can be found on Page 3B today, which can be filled out and sent to the Census Supervisor, Palm Springs City Hall.

DURING THE PAST month, the Board of Education started machinery for construction of 10 high school classrooms and six junior high school classrooms as the first projects of an expansion plan financed by a $2,138,000 bond issue.

Blizzards Bury Communities In Midwest

Traffic Stopped By 60 MPH Wind; Continues Today

By UNITED PRESS

One of the worst Midwest blizzards of the winter raged with undiminished intensity today, stopping traffic in its tracks and virtually isolating communities in parts of Nebraska, Kansas and the Dakotas.

The massive storm system also sent drenching rains cascading across sections of the East Coast, accompanied by hail and high winds. Weathermen said one deluge dumped an inch of rain at Raleigh, N. C., in a period of minutes Thursday night.

THE MIDWEST blizzard began Thursday afternoon and was not expected to ease off until tonight. Frigid northern winds of up to 60 miles an hour piled up snow into deep drifts and cut visibility to zero in swirling snow.

The blizzard belt ranged from the western and central Dakotas south through western and central Nebraska and into western Kansas. The storm was expected to move into northern Minnesota today and blizzard warnings were out for that area.

A FOOT OF SNOW buried Dickinson, N. C., today, and other heavy accumulations included 11 inches at Pierre, S. D.; 10 at Chadron, Neb.; 7 at Russell, Kan., and 6 at North Platte, Neb. Temperatures in the area plunged to near zero in western North Dakota and to the teens as far south as Kansas.

New York City was doused with more than an inch of rain Thursday night and about three quarters of an inch fell at Harrisburg, Pa. Heavy rains were reported throughout the Middle and North Atlantic states.

ONE TO THREE inches of snow brought slippery driving conditions to parts of southern Michigan and northern Indiana and rain or drizzle extended southward into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

STILL RETAINING its title as the world's "swimming pool city," Palm Springs saw the addition of 17 new pools, bringing the city's total number of splasharenas to 1,538.

Cost of the new pools was $56,000. In other areas of construction, permits were issued for 22 dwelling additions, valued at $37,050; one new commercial building, $42,000, and one new manufacturing building, $24,000.

Permits were also handed out for four commercial additions, $5,000; one hotel addition, $5,000, and one trailer addition $1,000.

JOSEPH R. KANYA

Kanya to Seek Junior College Trustee Post

Desert Hot Springs School Principal Joseph R. Kanya today became the 14th desert area resident to announce his candidacy for election to the governing board of the proposed desert junior college.

County school administration officials said that 13 other citizens from Palm Springs, Palm Desert, Indio, Thermal, Coachella and Cathedral City have filed for candidacy in the April 15 election.

KANYA, A VETERAN of public school administration, has been a principal in the Palm Springs School system for 10 years.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, national education fraternity; and a member of the Principal's Association of the National Education Association and the California Elementary School Administrators Association.

Kanya is also a member of the Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce board of directors and is past president of the DHS Rotary Club.

IN ANNOUNCING his candidacy he stated: "Education is my business. Our junior college offerings must be broad and thorough in light of new horizons in this day. I feel deeply that to help organize such an institution is a civic responsibility for which I am well qualified."

Other candidates listed by the office of County Schools Supt. Ray Johnson were:

Edwin Kronst, Cathedral City; Eugene Roberts, Palm Desert; Mrs. Cynthia Henderson, Palm Desert; Charles Wallace, Thousand Palms; Donald Mitchell, Coachella; Raymond Rummolds, Indio; Mrs. Ruth Rooke, Thermal; John Devers, Indio, and Thomas Hunsucker, Thermal.

Palm Springs candidates are Frank Muller, Dorothy Owens, Isadore Singer and Robert Schnabel.

Muller and Wallace are presently members of the Palm Springs Board of Education.

Education Board Accepts Resignation of Muelder

The Board of Education last night accepted the resignation of Dr. Wallace R. Muelder as superintendent of the Palm Springs Unified School District.

Muelder, whose resignation takes effect Aug. 31, said he accepted a new educational administrative post "on a university level," starting next fall.

THE 34-YEAR-OLD superintendent said he was "not at liberty" to disclose the university at this time, but unofficial reports indicated that he has been engaged in negotiations with the University of Southern California. He received his master's degree at USC in 1947.

The highest paid—at an annual salary of $19,500—and one of the most controversial figures ever to hold the Palm Springs school superintendent's post, Muelder came to this district in June, 1955, as successor to Dr. Arthur Hoff.

HE WAS PREVIOUSLY assistant to County Schools Supt. Ray Johnson. Muelder joined Johnson's staff in September, 1950.

In accepting Muelder's resignation last night, the board members indicated they were doing so with "great reluctance."

WALLACE R. MUELDER

Member Arnold Rumwell, expressed the board's regret at the premature conclusion of Muelder's four-year contract, of which the superintendent has served 2½ years.

"WE ARE VERY much aware of Dr. Muelder's value to the district, but we knew that his resignation would eventually come," Rumwell said. "A man of Dr. Muelder's ability certainly couldn't stand still. He must move ahead."

Rumwell noted that "we have heard criticism aimed at the superintendent, but he felt that this criticism was mostly directed at matters that bore no relation to Dr. Muelder's ability."

Muelder's policies as district administrative chief have more than once provoked critical comment from area residents and district faculty members.

"WE FEEL THAT Dr. Muelder's ability is unquestionable," said Rumwell, adding: "It is with great regret that we accept his resignation because of his extreme value to the district."

In his letter of resignation, Muelder recounted a few of the sweeping changes he initiated in district administration. He expressed his regret at leaving the district and offered his appreciation to the board "for the confidence you have shown me."

Muelder said he has arranged to "be on hand" for compilation of the important annual budget and other district matters that would require his attention.

Stassen Takes Issue With Ike On Tests Ban

WASHINGTON — Harold E. Stassen took sharp issue today with President Eisenhower's position that some NATO allies would not go along now with a first-step disarmament agreement keyed to a temporary ban on nuclear bomb tests.

The former White House disarmament adviser told the Senate Disarmament Subcommittee:

"I AM STILL quite certain that the NATO nations would support that first step and that it becomes one of the most important items of foreign policy at the moment."

Stassen said the agreement he proposes, calling for a two-year ban on nuclear tests by the United States and Russia, would not necessarily keep Britain and France from going ahead with their own tests if they chose.

THE IMPORTANT thing, he said, is a temporary cessation of testing by Russia and the United States.

Stassen, who resigned after a dispute with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles over disarmament policies to seek the Republican nomination for governor in Pennsylvania, was the first witness at subcommittee hearings on curbing armaments.

Mack to 'Seriously Consider' Demands for Resignation

WASHINGTON — Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack said today he would "seriously consider" demands that he resign.

Mack heretofore has insisted he had "no intention" of quitting his FCC post in the face of charges—which he has denied—that he let money and friends influence his commission decisions.

BUT TODAY HE appeared shaken in his resolve after Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) joined other members of a House investigating subcommittee in telling the commissioner he should resign.

Harris, whose group has been hearing Mack's testimony the past two days, said the commissioner has been "used by his friends." He told Mack, "you are to be pitied." But he said that if Mack did not submit his resignation President Eisenhower—who appointed him to the FCC—should immediately request it.

MACK, OBVIOUSLY moved, said he would "seriously consider" Harris' suggestion that he quit.

With that, Mack asked that the hearing be recessed until next Wednesday, when he presumably will give his answer. The subcommittee agreed to the recess.

Rep. Jon B. Bennett (R-Mich.), earlier had asserted that Mack should be fired or impeached.

AND EARLIER TODAY, Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) told the 48-year-old Floridian he was "unfit" to serve on the commission and should "immediately submit your resignation."

Then Harris, saying he felt sorry for Mack, joined in the demand.

College Students Admit Charges

Two college students arrested here last week on burglary charges, entered pleas of guilty before Judge Hilton McCabe in Superior Court yesterday.

The boys, Larry J. Lee, 22, and William M. Reifschneider, 21, both of Boulder, Colo., were arrested on charges of burglarizing the Howard Manor of $5,000 worth of furs and jewelry.

A hearing on the probation report and sentencing has been set before Judge McCabe on March 20.

Autopsy Set To Determine Cause of Death

An autopsy will be held to determine the cause of death of John Richard Greer, age 50, who was found dead in his bed at 290 Mel Avenue this morning, police said.

An air of mystery surrounded the death of the man who had spent some 25 years in Palm Springs, because police answered a "disturbance of the peace" call at the address yesterday afternoon.

The man was found by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Flora N. Foot, this morning.

Police Lt. Robert White and Sgt. John Herrera said that a bottle containing one capsule was found on the floor near the bed, and the medicine was apparently a sedative given to Greer by his doctor. According to detectives, Greer apparently had been dead about 12 hours.

WASHINGTON UP — Waldemar Capelle, police chief of Kohler Village, Wis., said today he added more than 40 Kohler Co. employees to his force as special officers when the United Auto Workers organized the plant in 1952. He said the recruits were trained with submachine guns and tear gas guns on the company's rifle range. Once the UAW strike started, he said, he put 45 more Kohler men on his force as special policemen.

12 Children Saved Before Vehicle Sinks

Driver Tried To Avoid Truck, Wrecker on Road

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. — A loaded school bus plummeted over a 50-foot bluff into the Big Sandy River today. Eighteen to 24 children and the driver apparently were killed or drowned. Twelve children escaped from the bus and were rescued.

THE TRAGEDY occurred on U. S. 23 about three miles south of here when bus driver John Derossett, 22, tried to avoid an automobile wrecker and a half-ton truck which had skidded into a ditch on the right side of the road.

Kentucky State Trooper Bill Lycan said the school bus glanced off the left rear corner of the wrecker and careened across the highway, striking the shoulder of the road and a parked car.

THE BUS TEETERED sickeningly on the edge of the bluff for a moment, then rolled over and down into the Big Sandy, swollen some 20 feet above normal stage by recent heavy rains.

Lycan said the bus did not sink immediately, and some of the students escaped through the emergency door, which Derossett apparently was able to open.

Derossett and Donald Horn, driver of the wrecker, got on top of the bus and helped several children get out until the bus sank out of sight in the swirling water.

JAMES GREEN, chairman of the Floyd County School Board, said he believed 23 children and the driver were dead. Prestonsburg High School Principal James B. Volen issued a list of 16 high school and four grade school children unaccounted for and believed to have been on the bus.

It was possible that some may have missed the bus, and also possible that others not listed were on it.

THE RIVER was being dragged and diving equipment was sent to the scene, but the bus had not been located several hours after the accident.

The children who survived were taken to nearby homes, and it is not known how many were injured or how seriously.

Records in the state department of education showed this to be the first school bus accident involving a fatality in Kentucky in six years. It was believed it may be the worst tragedy in the history of school transportation.

Ike Has Tooth Pulled, Checkup

John Babbage Starts Tour Of Congressional District

Riverside attorney John Babbage, who is running for Congress on the Republican ticket against Dalip S. Saund, has started a tour of cities and communities in the 29th Congressional District. On a visit to Palm Springs yesterday, Babbage said that the desert recreation area should be getting the help of its representatives in Congress to obtain regular air transportation to the Eastern seaboard.

The candidate said that politicians can make a lot of promises, but explained that through experience (in the California legislature) he has learned that a little perseverance and work will win a task.

Babbage left the California legislature in 1951 to devote his time to his law practice in Riverside. Babbage, who lives in Riverside, is married and has two children, a boy 17, and a girl 9.

Nixon Calls for Civilian Control of Space Exploring

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today placed the administration solidly behind civilian control over the exploration of space.

At the same time Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said he can't see any military advantage in hitting the moon with a rocket, but his department will try it before "too long."

MISSILE EXPERT Kraft A. Ehrlicke speaking at the Air Force Jet Age Conference, proposed construction of a "chemo-nuclear" powered space ship weighing 900 tons that could be launched from the earth by 1970 to land on the moon and circle Mars.

Ehrlicke said his freighter-sized space vehicle was dependent upon the Atomic Energy Commission coming up with a system of feeding liquid hydrogen to a rocket engine which has a nuclear pile as its energy source.

THE REMARKS by Nixon and McElroy pointed up one of the current questions before Congress, whether civilian or military authorities should attempt the peaceful conquest of space. The Defense Department has been given authority to run the U. S. space program for a year, pending a decision.

Appropriations By City Council Exceed $350,000

City Council this week approved five recommendations of City Manager Robert W. Peterson exceeding $350,000.

The largest and main item was the appropriation for the new police station, amounting to $347,220.

Other items were a salary appropriation for the director of finance of $1,949; a change from the city clerk's department to the director of finance department, for secretarial help, $822; a capital outlay budget adjustment for the purchase of a precision level and concrete testing machine, $200, and a state compensation appropriation of $3,000.

Film Industry Mourns Today For Harry Cohn

HOLLYWOOD — The film industry was in mourning today for Columbia Pictures President Harry Cohn.

His death wrote a Cinerama-sized "The End" to an era which saw the 66-year-old starmaker, the last of the one-man studio rulers.

Cohn's body will be flown to Los Angeles today from Phoenix, Ariz., where he was stricken with a heart attack and died enroute to St. Joseph's Hospital. Cohn's wife, Joan, was at his bedside in the Arizona Biltmore Hotel where he was stricken.

CORN, WHO WAS born on New York's East Side, had interrupted his desert vacation Tuesday to fly here. He attended funeral services for L. K. Sidney, director George Sidney's father, and returned to Phoenix the same day.

Whether Cohn was an "iron-fisted Caesar" or a dedicated, inspired film genius, his keen eye for talent and thorough publicity methods made stars of such persons as Clark Gable, Rita Hayworth, Jean Arthur, Claudette Colbert, Jean Harlow, Carole Lombard, Cary Grant, and most recently, Kim Novak.

COHN'S HEAVY, tight rein on his multi-million dollar corporation made it one of the most powerful studios in the tinsel city.

Forty-five Oscars decorated the short, round man's office where a riding crop he kept on his desk was regularly flourished in conferences with stars, directors and other studio workers alike.

With funeral arrangements yet to be announced, Hollywood was predicting an internal Columbia Pictures struggle for control of the business which had been a one-man show since its corporation in 1929.

3 Assessment Districts Given Council Approval

Three assessment districts were acted on by the City Council this week, and included the approval to proceed with plans and specifications on the paving of Ocotillo and Palo Verde Avenues; the receipt of the Vista Oro paving petition; and the passing of a resolution of intention to proceed with the planting of oleanders along the south bank of the Tahquitz wash between Palm Canyon and Sunrise Way.

Supporters of Benson Label Critics 'Ignoramuses'

WASHINGTON — A group of Republican Congressmen today labeled critics of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson "ignoramus" who will live to see his policies vindicated.

The counterattack by Benson supporters was the strongest in many months. It came after President Eisenhower reiterated his backing for his embattled farm chief and Benson himself denied he was a political liability to Midwest Republicans.

REP. THOMAS B. CURTIS (R-Mo.), told the House the secretary's critics are "ignoramuses and don't even want to know about" the economics of the farm problem. He said Benson's "solutions may not work but at least he is leading from knowledge in trying to solve the problem."

Rep. Charles M. Teague (R-Calif.), said Benson was trying to put the farm program on a sound economic basis—"God bless him and more power to him." Rep. Henry A. Dixon (R-Utah) promised "we'll live to see the day when Benson's policies will be vindicated."

H. R. GROSS (R-Iowa), one of about 40 anti-Benson Midwest Republican lawmakers, said Benson had outlived his usefulness. Gross also said the President should take him out "on his next quail-shooting and golfing trip to acquaint himself with what's happening in agriculture."

But there appeared to be little chance Benson's foes could bring about his ouster.

Reps. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) and Phil Weaver (R-Neb.) said they would keep trying even though President Eisenhower turned down their demands during a White House conference Thursday. They said they hoped meetings with "additional groups" still might change the President's mind about his farm chief.

Although they said they would remove the trailer within sixty days, it was reported that they had been in the trailers since the latter part of 1957.

Attorney Harry Cannon of Palm Desert represented the plaintiff, and Attorney Gordon Cologne of Indio represented the defendants.

Air Crash Pointed Out Value of Desert Hospital

The recent air crash on the outskirts of Palm Springs brought to light once again the great advantage of our well equipped and managed Desert Hospital.

This event placed the biggest immediate demand upon the hospital since its inception. It is with pride that we point to the efficient manner in which the Hospital and its staff met this emergency.

While on the subject of the Desert Hospital, public recognition should also be paid to the Women's Auxiliary for the outstanding work they are performing in helping to keep the Hospital's blood bank supplied, which is but one of their numerous projects.

Florence Murphy, president of the Women's Auxiliary, has appointed a very efficient chairman of the Blood Bank Committee, Mrs. Raye Ghoistin, who with her committee members conducts a telephone campaign for blood donors immediately prior to the monthly visit of the mobile Blood Bank Unit.

With the valuable cooperation of the doctors of Palm Springs, this committee has succeeded each month in passing all previous records in the number of pints contributed to the Desert Hospital blood bank.

Our Blood Bank is vital to our community, so contribute, if you can, when called.

To the Desert Hospital, the doctors and the ladies of the Women's Auxiliary our hats are off.

How Senator Humphrey Made the Club

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Harry Byrd (Va.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) are colleagues on a peace or disarmament subcommittee. This association in the name of peace was not always thus. Last week Senator Byrd was the center of much attention on the chamber floor.

This was his first appearance in the Senate since announcing his planned retirement for the end of this session. His fellow-Senators came to Byrd from both sides of the aisle to shake hands, hug his shoulders, give many gruff, masculine demonstrations of their affection and regard for the Magnificent Virginian. (Editor's Note: Senator Byrd has since announced plans to run for reelection.)

WATCHING THIS tender scene from the press gallery, your reporter's memory carried him back eight years, March 2, 1950 to a similar scene. There stood Senator Byrd in the center of a human island. Perhaps as many as 20 Senators, most of them gray and venerable, grouped about him while he answered an impudent speech which a brash young freshman had made the week before.

Senator Humphrey, only a little more than a year in his office, had done the unpardonable. He had attacked Senator Byrd, his senior by almost two decades in service and years.

HUMPHREY CALLED for the abolition of the Joint Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures. Its revered chairman—Harry Byrd.

Humphrey said of the Byrd Committee that it was "the No. 1 example of waste and extravagance," that it "served no useful purpose and is merely used as a publicity medium" for its chairman. Humphrey offered a bill to abolish this "waste of the taxpayers' money."

SENATOR BYRD was out of Washington because of family illness when Humphrey spoke on Feb. 24. But on March 2 the Virginian moved into a dignified counterattack. "I find," said Byrd, "that in the 2,000 words of remarks attributed to the junior Senator from Minnesota . . . there are at least 9 misstatements which require correction for accuracy."

From the press gallery, it was difficult to hear Byrd's words. He was not speaking to the gallery, of course, and he hardly seemed to be addressing Humphrey who sat in a rear seat, very much isolated. Byrd was addressing "the club," as it is called—a small inner circle of Senators who run the upper chamber and whose good opinions are worth having.

WHEN HE FINISHED his speech, these Senators of whom the patriarchal Walter George of Georgia seemed to be the unnamed leader, began to defend Byrd—or, rather, to praise him.

The yellowed pages of the Congressional Record show that many who rose to give their allegiance to the Virginian are now either dead or departed—Senators George, Wherry, McKellar, Maybank and Tobey in the first category. And, then, when they had had their say, and Humphrey rose to speak in rebuttal, one of those very "club-like" events took place. The Senate chamber emptied of all who really mattered.

BUT THE STORY does not end at this point. Eight years later, what of the principal actors—Byrd and Humphrey? Well, Senator Byrd has not changed; he is as unchangeable as the immutable principles on which his great career and reputation are built. But Hubert Humphrey? Has he changed? Did that public chastisement in the pride of his political youth have any effect, one way or another?

This is, if you ask me, a fascinating study in human dynamism. It is truth, and therefore is not overdramatized. The "growth" of men in public office is often a matter of press agency. The "change" that supposedly takes place in a man's basic philosophy, as in the case of Senator Vandenberg's conversion from isolationism to internationalism, is often distorted by his flatters and the protagonists of the philosophy of the second part.

BUT THE THING that happened to Hubert Humphrey, according to those who know him well, was slow and subtle.

Humphrey told many friends that his challenge of Byrd was the worst mistake of his life. Humphrey recovered from it by taking another look at the man he had verbally assaulted. The Minnesotan came to Washington in the 1948 election as a member of the new Left Wing. He hated "reactionaries," of whom Southern Democrats were the epitome. He apparently thought of them as the enemy of all progress and reform. He evidently attached to them low motives and selfish ends.

BUT THE CONTACT with Byrd and with the elders of the Senate showed Humphrey that there was something of value in them. He did not himself become a conservative, and never will, but alone among the Left Wingers of '48 and since, he became appreciative and tolerant of the good in men with whom he disagreed.

It would have been dramatic, but perhaps not true-to-life, if Humphrey had publicly embraced Byrd last week. I did not see that. I have not been able to find that Humphrey gave any expression of regret over Byrd's announcement of retirement. But this much is true. The two antagonists of 1950 are working colleagues today. And of all the Left Wing, only one is an accepted member of "the club." His name is Hubert Humphrey. —Holmes Alexander

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: I am one of thousands of wives whose husband spends the greater part of his life in a two-room office with an attractive private secretary. If our husbands thought that we wives were spending eight hours in the company of attractive single men we would be shot! What goes on after office hours with the vodka bottle in the bottom drawer (vodka doesn't give you away — it doesn't stay on the breath) is nobody's business. The vice squad should lay off trying to clean up the road houses and start in where the real dirt is — in the office.

A WIFE WHO KNOWS DEAR WIFE: Most professional men (with two-room offices and a private secretary) are too busy working during the day to know whether his secretary is a woman or a piece of wood. And AFTER office hours, they are usually too tired to care. Relax!

DEAR ABBY: Here is something we have been quarreling about for a long time, and maybe you can help to settle it. I say that when a man and a lady who know each other meet, the man should speak to her first. This other party says the lady should speak to the man first. Who is right?

DEAR ESTELLE: A lady should speak to the gentleman first.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an older brother who has been in a mental hospital for almost twenty years. My husband is ashamed of this fact and forbids anyone to mention it. We have children growing up and my husband lives in fear that they are going to find out. My husband is a very stubborn man who refuses to listen to me. Maybe he will listen to you. Isn't he wrong for feeling the way he does? NOT ASHAMED

DEAR NOT ASHAMED: Some one should tell your husband that there is probably not a family in America who has not had (or will not have) relatives with mental illness. Our mental machinery can go out of whack just like our kidneys, livers or heart. Ignorance on this subject is inexcusable. Contact your local Mental Health Society and ask for free pamphlets and educate your husband.

DEAR ABBY: My father is the principal of our school. He makes me call him MR. So-and-So when I see him in school and he also makes me bring a written excuse from home when I'm sick and have to stay home from school. Do you think this makes any sense when he is my own father?

DISGUSTED WITH HIM DEAR DISGUSTED: Yes, Dear, this does make sense. He is trying to treat you like everyone else.

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who doesn't have a driver's license and cannot get one because she doesn't know how to drive, but she drives anyway. I usually take my own, hers, and a few other children to school every morning, but I can't pick them up. Later she has been going to pick them up. I have seen her drive, and I tell my children to duck until she leaves, and to walk home. Should I tell the parents of the other children who ride with her about her driving without a license? I hate to start trouble, but you should see this woman behind the wheel!

WORRIED DEAR WORRIED: First, remind your neighbor that driver's training is available and ask her if she knows that she is breaking the law. If she doesn't act promptly, and continues to drive, the parents of her young passengers should be alerted.

CONFIDENTIAL TO TUFFY: You're right . . . there IS safety in numbers. But don't overdo it. You might get your numbers mixed.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARY MARGARET: If they have a Blarney Stone in Italy, Mario kissed it. Don't believe everything you hear.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Today's thesis
Shall be keyed
To how we can Improve the breed.

It has been some time since I have discussed our equine friends in one of these pieces. But since tomorrow marks the 23rd renewal of the original $100,000 race, the Santa Anita handicapper, and since I have just talked to the proud co-owner of the most talked-about horse of the day—Silky Sullivan—today seems an appropriate time to talk horses.

THE BIG 'CAP tomorrow brings back many happy memories and also some sour ones. I saw the first one. Everybody was talking the big name horses, Twenty Grand, Equipoise, Exterminator and the likes.

In the Miami Herald the race expert picked Azucar. Not knowing anything about the horses then, as now, I talked up Azucar as if it was my own pick. So much that all of the boys in the newsroom, composing room and front office put a scud on him.

ME? WELL just as I got to the $2 window I said to myself: "What in heck do you know about horses, anyway?" and abandoned Azucar for Head Play. Azucar won at a fat $26.40 and Head Play finished far down the track, as they say.

I hung my head in shame when the boys thanked me for tipping them off on Azucar.

"You must have won a hatful," they said enviously. I lied beautifully.

NOW FOR Silky Sullivan. The stretch-running son of Sullivan and Lady N Silk is co-owned by Tom Ross of San Marino and Phil Klipstein. Mr. Ross is a guest in Palm Springs of Jack Scannell who is wintering at the Village Manor.

Mr. Ross has never seen his prize colt in one of his spintangling stretch runs which are the talk of the racing world.

He has a heart condition and his doctor makes him stay away from the track.

THE WAY Silky runs, I don't wonder. It would be a strain to see him come from 50 lengths back to win. I know. I've experienced such a strain many times and all the interest I had in a horse making like that was $2 on the nose.

Mr. Ross also owns a yearling sired by Determine, the 1954 Kentucky Derby winner. The name is "He's Determined."

With Silky in this year's Kentucky Derby, Mr. Ross may have another in 1960.

SILKY SULLIVAN is a remarkable horse. Just clumping along when he leaves the starting gate, he decides to run at the head of the stretch and comes blazing home, running over horses. Trained by Reggie Cornell, he ran the last quarter of a mile Tuesday in 22.5 seconds. That's better than most quarter horses trained for that distance. And he does it after running a half mile or more.

So much for the horses. When I said that the Big 'Cap held some fond memories as well as some ones I was thinking of Bay-view who won the race some years ago. I had him—at $118.40 per $2.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

Postcard

Nothing to my mind is so find as the smell of hot cakes and bacon in the kitchen on Sunday morning.

Out on the hillside — and suddenly it seems all the hillsides are green in my part of the country — a kite sailed up in small swoops. There was still winter rain in the air. But trust a kite-flying boy to know that Spring is puffing around the corner.

On the hillside by the bay, I saw one clump of golden poppies.

WELL, WE MUST get Spring under way. Else the New York writers will beat me to it. They are an eager bunch. Let a sparrow blow on his frosty hands out Moriarty's on Sixth, and half a dozen pundits are phoning in to replate Spring!

"What kind of kite is it?" I asked the moppet.

"A KITE," HE SAID sullenly. When I was a Boy Scout I would have dusted up a smart cookie like that. I would have taught him to be Thrifty, Clean, Reverent and, especially, Courteous.

It shows you how far I have come from kite-flying when a youth tells me: "A kite." I could see for myself it was not a satellite.

It was a mighty gaudy kite. No tail. I hardly see how he got it off the ground.

IN MY YOUTH, we did not buy kites from the five-and-dime. Kites all covered with comic strip characters with funny balloons coming out of their mouths.

We made our kites by crossing two sticks. We covered the sticks with fancy paper if we had any. And on the end we made a tail by tying little swatches of cloth every 12 inches in a string. The swatches were about the size of a girl's hair ribbon.

THE BEST CLOTH to use was your mother's old underwear. When you attached a ball of string to this, you ran until it got off the ground. The tail gave it a kind of keel. Heaven knows what sort of infernal aerodynamics this generation is using. But I look for a lot of crashes before they work the bugs out of it.

We worked our kites by the seat of our pants — we had no instruments and flew them blind.

LITTLE KIDS TRAILED along behind us as we ran. The little ones too young to fly kites. They ran alongside screaming while we fought for air.

Kites with tails were more hazardous than the kites they fly nowadays. The tail often caught in trees. And many a fine kite of mine was finally abandoned on a string of inaccessible telephone wires.

WHEN A KITE hung up on telephone wires, you got a long fishing pole. Then you sat on another boy's shoulders and tried to poke it off. You were always about six feet short of the mark.

After that you pegged rocks at it. But it never fell off. Those kite tails were like barbed wire.

OFTEN ENOUGH though, on a breezy March day, we got our kites airborne. Then you could sit on the green, green grass and feel the tugging message from outer space. A wonderful feeling of power and deep contentment.

"You want me to help you get it up?" I asked the boy.

The boy did not answer. Just got very busy running in the opposite direction and giving the kite some professional jerks.

THE KITE DID not want to get up in the sky very much. Finally it settled in the grass and the boy went over and puttered with it.

I could tell he did not want to company. He wanted to find Spring all by himself. And here was Winter, peering over his shoulder and giving a lot of last Spring's advice.

So after awhile I went back in to the hot cakes and the newspapers. But there was no question, Spring was outside twitching all around us.

EARL WILSON:

Big Wine-Tasting in Boston

BOSTON—The BW and I are hopping around America and came up here to Beantown to taste 14 kinds of Italian wines. We only lasted through 11 kinds, as we weren't thirsty.

The Italian wine industry—battling California now, as well as France—is worried about Bostonians. It seems they drink water with their meals. Or even milk. Can you imagine milk and spaghetti? The Italians can't. They told Boston if water rots your shoes what will it do to your stomach? If you want your insides to be a swamp all right already!

We tasted their wonderful wines for three hours—along with Italian Ambassador Brosio, opera singer Lucia Albanese and others who came to the Hotel Somerset for the big drink.

Their Moscato '45 was delectable. I asked for a Schlitz or Miller's Hi-Life '57 or even a Michelob '59 but it was no dice.

"Now we'll go for a romp around Boston," said Columnist George W. Clarke of the Record—and my B.W. said anxiously:

"Can you still get good baked beans in Boston?"

"Sure," grunted George. "Where?" gushed the B.W. hungrily.

"In cans," George replied, enthusiastically.

Just seeing the River Charles and Harvard reminded us of Elliott Roosevelt's story of how FDR used to mix martinis half-gin and half-vermouth until his sons came home from school and convinced him he should use less and less vermouth.

Each son advocated less vermouth until John persuaded him that having a bottle of vermouth in the house (unopened) was enough. "I'm glad I ran out of sons going to Harvard," FDR said. Sitting in Blintrib's night club (capacity 1700 and now starring Gordon McRae), we heard how Helen Morgan once sang nearby for $2,000 a week for Benny Gaines, now boss of the Sahara Motel in Miami Beach.

"When's Helen going to dance?" Benny's partner asked him after the first show.

"Dance!" exclaimed Benny. "She's a singer!"

"For $2,000 a week, don't you think she could dance a little bit?" asked the partner.

The Boston Commons was still and dark when we came back to the Somerset—and George Clarke said that in the old carriage-driving days the wealthy gave their coachmen $1 or $2 drinking credit at the hotel bar while they went inside to a society ball.

"When they came out from the ball," George said, "the coachmen would have exhausted their credit at the bar."

"And the wealthy society folks would be taken home — by their horses."

Yea, Boston. There's nothing stuffy about this town — except maybe some of us visitors.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . The producers of "New Girl in Town" hope Gisele MacKenzie'll step in when Gwen Verdon leaves to film "Damn Yankees" . . . Max Rabb, sec'y to the Cabinet, has an offer to become an NBC veep in Washington.

Frank Sinatra sent a huge pizza pie, inscribed "Congratulations," to Sal Mineo for his "Aladdin" show . . . Ellen McRae of "Fair Game" tested for Danny Kaye's film bio of Red Nichols (after getting Mrs. Kaye's OK) . . . Singer Ella Logan says she'll do a "modified strip" when she opens in a Palm Beach cafe . . . Erskine Caldwell's here to plug his "God's Little Acre" film . . . Singer Betty Ann Grove will play the lead in the Lee Pelzman film, "Music Maker."

The Pupi Campos (Betty Clooney) are expecting their third . . . Milton Berle had a brilliant opening at the Miami Beach Latin '4; Dean Martin, Tony Martin, Roberta Sherwood and Marie McDonald onstage together in a song and dance number.

Harry Karl, estranged from Marie McDonald, re-enters to her as "my ex" . . . Gina Lollobrigida asked to be introduced to Sir Laurence Olivier, finally met him . . . The State Dept. asked the McGuire Sisters to appear at the Brussels Fair . . . Rehearsals for Hildegarde's musical, "Packaged in Paris," have been set back; she's too busy working in cafes . . . George Jessel will visit Moscow . . . Israel and France will exchange atomic research information.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH . . . Milton Berle insists he attended a non-profit school: "I didn't profit a bit from going there." "I don't mind paying taxes," says a reader. — "I'd hate to see John Foster Dulles travel by bus." That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Hinton and Hayes

HOLLYWOOD — It's building up to The Big Day for Hollywood—meaning the Academy Awards telecast March 26—and it looks like Oscarville all the way for Alec Guinness and "Bridge on the River Kwai."

Sabotage: Beverly Hills socialites Ed and Marilyn Hinton threw a dinner party for the Ronald Grahams of Canada and invited some stars, among them Esther Williams, Ann Miller and Art Linkletter. Contractor Hal Hayes was invited too, but Hal swooped in and gathered up the movies stars before the Grahams had a chance to talk to them—and took the stars out to dinner at a restaurant!

P.S. THE HINTONS have given up Hayes for Lent.

Lulu Morgan, the late Helen Morgan's mother, got married, only to have her new husband die on the honeymoon . . . "Pepe," the first movie to be made in Hollywood by Cantinflas of "Around the World in 80 Days" fame, is about a Mexican (Cantinflas) who comes to Hollywood, opens a shoeshine stand outside the gates of a movie studio—and you take it from there (the ends up running the studio—what else?!).

STERLING HAYDEN threw his little black address book away and Bunny Cooper, Ben's sister, is The Reason . . . Frank Sinatra chartered a bus and took a bunch of his pals—including Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh, Joan Caulfield, Frank Ross, Mike Romanoff and Kent Smith—to Santa Barbara for the sneak preview of his new picture, "Kings Go Forth."

Alighting from the bus, Frankie was confronted by a TV camera and an interviewer who asked him the name of his date, a lovely brunette. Frankie introduced her as "Ezzard Charles" . . . Aside to the TV interviewer: She's really Joan Boston, a showgirl from the Sands in Las Vegas.

PETER MILES, who played a little Roman orphan boy in M-G-M's "Quo Vadis," has grown up and will play a big Roman gladiator in M-G-M's "Ben-Hur" . . . Trumpeter Red Nichols was signed by Paramount to teach Danny Kaye how to play the trumpet for Kaye's role as Nichols in "The Five Pennies."

Nancy Valentine, ex-Maharajah of Conch-Beah, is writing her life story, "Broken Valentine" . . . Ray Stricklyn wrote

Diane Varsi's acceptance speech, just in case Diane wins the supporting actress Oscar for "Peyton Place": "I want to thank all those nice people who got out of my life and made all this possible!"

TV TOPICS—The Schlitz Beer people signed Jacqueline Beer (Miss France of '57) for a Schlitz Playhouse segment. Makes sense . . . Sarah Churchill's biggest problem, despite all those headlines, doesn't stem from drinking but from her emotional upset over her husband's suicide.

Los Angeles Press Club's "Miss Eight Ball of 1958," Sandra Giles, will star in a teleplay to be produced by Elmer Rhoden, Jr., about a female private eye. Title: Private Eye-ful.

JERRY WALT is buttering up Ginger Rogers to dance The Continental, the old Rogers-Astaire step, on the Oscar telecast March 26—and also Terry Moore to raise some hell in "The Hell Raisers" . . . Doris Day, Dick Widmark and Red Buttons are recording six-second spot commercials to plug the Oscarcast . . . Joe E. Lewis says he's rehearsing for a new teleseries to be titled Frontier Drunk.

Ken Murray signed 17-year-old Olympic gymnast Muriel Davis to star in his teleplay, El Coyote . . . Hecht-Hill-Lancaster lapped Dean Martin's six-year-old Dino on Ed Murrow's Person-to-Person recently and the production outfit is now trying to lure the lad away from the Martin manse for a romp as Burt Lancaster's son in an upcoming movie.

MIKE WALLACE tells me The Big Idea back of his ABC-TV interview series is to bring stimulating, intelligent and controversial conversation to the TV screen and into the family living room. Upcoming guests will include Dr. Edwin Teller of H-bomb fame, Tennessee Williams and Oscar Hammerstein II. So I'd say Mike's Big Idea isn't about to backfire.

If Bob Hope has his way with the State Department and secures permission to film his May spec for Plymouth in Moscow, Turkey and Paris, don't be surprised if ol' Ski-Nose nips the Soviet sense of humor with this one: "A funny thing happened to me on my way to Siberia this morning . . ." (1) . . . Today's TV Thought, from Jack Webb: Talk is cheap because the supply is bigger than the demand."

of being made here in the desert. This fact may be evidenced this weekend with the opening of new model homes constructed by pioneer builder Jack Meiselman in his newest development, Palm Lane Estates.

HERE MAY BE viewed master craftsmanship in producing the ultimate home for gracious desert living. After years of seeking only the correct materials and design for such homes, Meiselman is proud to present the following features for discriminating desert home buyers.

REALIZING THE great number of hours that must be spent in the kitchen of any home, Meiselman has concentrated his full attention upon this important area of the home. Results are, the selection of complete Youngstown Metal Kitchens in Sunburst Design.

These consist of Youngstown dishwasher; food waste disposal; copper ventilating hood; twin bowl sink; lazy susan cabinet. Also, Tappan Built-In Range and American Standard Plumbing Fixtures.

ACCORDING TO a spokesman for the development, such stainless steel cabinets will not warp, split or twist in the dry desert air. The Youngstown Kitchen coordinated color schemes offer unsurpassed "eye-appeal" to please the most discriminating home owner and to fit any choice of decor. They always retain that "just new" look. They are completely and forever vermin-proof.

Other desirable features are: Refrigerated cooling and forced air heating; completely fenced yard and play area; two car port; masonry fireplace; two sliding doors to pool area, from the living room and master bedroom.

ALSO, BREAKFAST BAR: formica counter tops; vinyl asbestos tile floors in kitchen and bath; rooms; cement walks and patios; large storage areas. In and paid for will be curbs, gutters and paved streets.

A pool can be added for only an extra $1,000 down, it was pointed out.

Otto Realty To Take Over Ruth Biles Office

Announcement was made this week that the Ruth Biles Realty office in Cathedral City will be taken over on March 1 by Otto Realty.

Mrs. Biles will continue in the Otto office as an associate. During the summer, however, Mr. and Mrs. Biles plan an extensive vacation. The Ottos will continue to operate their present office located at 24-730 Date Palm, where Warner Otto will have charge of sales, while Flora Otto will take charge of the new office at 68-744 Broadway.

Ruth Biles has maintained her office in Cathedral City continuously for the past ten years. The Otto Realty has engaged in business here for eight years, having come to the desert from Hollywood. The firm will continue to handle all forms of general real estate in the desert area.

2. Planting success depends on careful soil preparation. Humus materials or chemical soil conditioners are invaluable for improving difficult soils.
3. There are still supplies of bare root fruit, shade and flowering trees. But the season is fading fast.
4. Get your food garden underway. Plant (seed) beets, carrots, lettuce, radishes. Plant (seedlings) cabbage, cauliflower and brussels sprouts. Plant (from roots) rhubarb, artichokes and asparagus.
5. It is a good idea to plant ornamental shrubbery now so it will become established before summer.

Rhododendron Prove Very Popular

If gardeners were to select a beautiful specimen shrub just for attractions of foliage and habit, the rhododendron might get the nod on this score. But in addition to the beauty of the broad-leaf evergreen shrub, it is the background for huge tresses of brilliantly-hued flowers, some measuring 5 and 6 inches in diameter.

The California Association of Nurserymen advises that most nurseries are carrying a full selection of handsome rhododendron varieties this month. Two rhododendron varieties which have done well both on the coast and in the hot central valley are Pink Pearl and Purple Splendor.

Both are admired as the finest rhododendron in their color. Pink pearl, with flowers of a light clear pink in conical tresses, has excellent dark green foliage on a robust plant.

Not Even Herbert Hoover Wears a Hoover Collar Now, But Manufacturers Turn Out Paper Collars for Diehards

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (UP)—Not even Herbert Hoover wears a Hoover collar anymore, but, according to reliable sources, manufacturers are still turning out a trickle of paper and celluloid collars for diehards who know what they like.

Spats—Most popular in pearl gray with four buttons — are still enough of a sales item to keep two spat builders in New York humming right along. There are still some nightcap customers, too, and here, we are referring to something that goes on the head at night rather than into the stomach.

IF AL SMITH WERE still around, he'd be glad to know the old brown derby is still made as a limited - sale item. And as for sleeve garters, dagnabit if there ain't a demand for them yet in some rural areas.

The gladstone news that some people are clinging to past garment glories in a world gone mad to be wrapped in space suits was dug up by the old-line factoring firm of William Iselin & Co., which is celebrating its 150th year as a financing specialist in the textile industry.

CASTING ABOUT among its accounts, it found companies that still produce tiny quantities of the foregoing things, plus these:

High-button shoes, vest piping, long drop-seat underwear, opera capes, red flannel nightshirts, woolen knee-warmers with snap-on elastic bands and four - button suitcoats. Queried about the long underwear business, an Iselin man said:

"WE FOUND THAT one of the biggest manufacturers of underwear has got a charcoal number that he sells to coal miners—regular winter weight, with long sleeves and legs. Long red underwear is still a fairly good selling item, but it's come full circle and now is worn for smartness, among the college set."

As for vests with piping, he alleged they are still popular with some of the older professional men in small towns.

WHEN HE SAID that thousands of men are devoted to shirts with detachable collars in a variety of color combinations, I got to think ing about the high upstanding number Hoover used to gird his neck in, and I called up the very proper Brooks Bros. store about it.

"Hey, Joe," the man at Brooks hollered. "We got any Hoover collars?"

Joe said the Hoover job, made of linen, would have to be ordered, custom made. He said they had no celluloid collars in stock right now, but how about some nice paper ones? I said no thanks, not this year.

Well, the umbrella is coming back. The buckle on the back of the pants is coming back. The cap has returned. So, if you've got an old Hoover collar, hang on to it. It may be tomorrow's rage.

Wallace to Be Speaker at DHS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Charles Wallace, member of the County Board of Freeholders, will explain the charter form of government proposed for Riverside County at Saturday night's meeting of the Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association.

Wallace, of Thousand Palms, will also discuss the work being done by the Board of Freeholders. The meeting will follow a potluck dinner. The public is invited to attend.

Poison ivy's clusters of waxy white fruit, resembling bayberry, provide food for more than 60 species of birds.

A VERY POPULAR entertainment group, The Four Jokers, open tonight at Lyon's Prime Rib House for a limited, fun-filled engagement. Buddy Casanova, accordion, Ricky Mathews, base, Joe Bianca, guitar, and Bill Pettit, drums, make up this unusual fun-foursome.

Gonzales-Hoad Duel Shifts to Tennis Club

Top Pros to Clash Saturday

Bearing the scars of fresh battle wounds Pancho Gonzales, world professional tennis champion, attempts to beat off the unceasing attack of Challenger Lew Hoad on the lightning-fast court of Palm Springs Tennis Club tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Big and burly Gonzales will be fighting with his back to the wall as the tennis giants shift their global warfare outdoors (thanks to Palm Springs' summery climate) under the Tennis Club's arched.

Possibility of seeing Gonzales trampled again by the Australian ace's power tactics has attracted an assured sell-out crowd of 1,500 people. It's the largest audience to witness a match in Palm Springs tennis annals.

THE HUGE CROWD, which will first view an exciting opening tilt between Pancho Segura and Tony Trabert, will be seeing a different Gonzales tomorrow night—a Pancho who is hanging on the ropes after a 17 to 9 trouncing so far in their best-of-100 match series. It's a tennis indignity never before suffered by Gonzales in his long career in tennis.

According to Tennis Club Pro Ed Meyerson, it isn't that Gonzales has slipped one iota or lost his vaunted punch. It's just that Hoad has wrought a most remarkable improvement in his tennis game in the short space of six months.

THIS GREAT metamorphosis has the whole sports world agog. Before it happened nobody would have dared say Hoad was a better tennis player than the world champ. For Hoad last Summer was hardly a world beater. He was soundly beaten by practically every pro in the game, outclassed, outgunned and outfought.

So completely has Hoad reorganized his game that many tennis fans are saying it's a case of The King is Dead, Long Live the King.

THE BLOND, sandy-haired Aussie looks like an entirely different player right now. He's doing everything right. His service is as good as Pancho's, despite the fact that the champion's serve is still considered the most deadly in the world. And Hoad's ground strokes seem better and more varied.

Hoad has been very much a surprise to Gonzales. Pancho never dreamed that his youthful opponent would come up with enough power and pressure to shatter his self-confidence. But that's sports for you. A young upstart's always coming up to things better than his so-called invincible predecessor.

Schoendienst Signs, Braves Still Nine Shy

Mickey Mantle in Fold, Roy Sievers Also Signs Pact

By UNITED PRESS
Red Schoendienst's sudden signing, coupled with a warning that the Milwaukee front office will stand firm against its holdouts, put heavy pressure today on the Braves' nine remaining dissatisfied players.

Schoendienst, key man on the Braves' infield, agreed to terms in a long-distance telephone conversation with General Manager John Quinn. He is believed to have won a raise to $40,000 after a season in which he hit .309, walloped 15 homers and drove in 65 runs.

SCHOENDIENTS signing was the third "big one" of the day. Earlier, Mickey Mantle got his $75,000 from the New York Yankees and Roy Sievers his $35,000 from the Washington Senators.

It also followed only a few hours after Braves' President Joseph P. Cairnes warned many Braves "are asking a lot more than they're worth."

Lew Burdette, the World Series hero, tops the holdout list which also includes pitchers Bob Buhl, Gene Conley and Don McMahon; infielders Frank Torre, Johnny Logan and Felix Mantilla, and outfielders Wes Covington and Bob Hazle.

"TROUBLE IS the players are using the world championship as a talking point," said Cairnes. "Of course, Burdette won three games in the World Series. But a lot of people forget he didn't have as good a regular-season record in 1957 as he did in 1956."

Cairnes said he wouldn't interfere with General Manager John Quinn's negotiation's but added: "We feel they already have been compensated for the World Series by those $8,900 Series checks."

Mantle became the third highest-paid player in the Yankees' history while Sievers' $36,000 pact set a new standard for a Washington manager or player.

Mantle beat the Yankees' hold-out deadline by about a half hour when he dropped in on Personnel Director Lee MacPhail Thursday morning. Two minutes later the 26-year-old two-time Most Valuable Player was signed and en route to practice.

BOWLING

Hoams Pools took over the lead in the Women's Bowling League Thursday night when they won over Hathaway Company 3 to 1. In other games, Fireplace moved into third spot with a 4-0 win over Babin Realty and Wheelettes out-rolled Desert Hot Springs Rotary, 4-0.

Records of the teams this morning: Hoams Pools, 46-34; Hathaway, 44 1/2-35 1/2; Fireplace, 43-37; Wheelettes, 42-38; DHS Rotary, 38-42; Babin Realty, 27 1/2-52 1/2.

Wheelettes rolled the high team series with 2489 and Hathaway the high 'team game' with 874. Betty Gray rolled the high individual series with a 500 and Billy Pepper of Hathaway scored an all-spare game of 182 for high individual game.

In addition to the Cal-UCLA contest tonight, Washington will host the last-place Washington State Cougars. USC will travel to Oregon and Idaho will go against Stanford's upset specialists at Palo Alto. Oregon State is idle.

CHP Issues Warning for Red Lights on Bus

Do not pass a school bus stopped on a rural highway with red lights flashing, warns the California Highway Patrol.

"When the red lights on top of a school bus are flashing, it indicates children are about to cross the road at that point," stated Capt. L. W. Watson of the Patrol's Indio Area office. "Motorists approaching such a school bus from either direction are required to stop and wait until the lights are turned off before proceeding."

"An exception is when the stopped school bus is on the opposite portion of a divided highway," Capt. Watson said. "Although motorists are not required to stop before passing a stopped school bus without red lights flashing, it is smart to slow down and be prepared for any emergency."

"Frequently, children do the unexpected," the captain continued. "Adults must use extra caution when driving in or near school zones or anytime school children are near the street or highway."

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

All nations under the sun... don't all get the sunshine we get here... but most of them have costumes just as colorful... as those to be found strolling along Palm Canyon Drive... drifting into The Center... or lunching in smart restaurants or poolside at our clubs... Color belongs to all countries... and an array of picturesque characters is certain to show up tonight... for the Rose Float Ball at El Mirador... This is certain to be the most colorful scene in town... It will be fun... but it's not just for fun... but for funds too... to help in the important project of getting Palm Springs a float entry in the Rose Tournament parade next New Year's Day.

Invitations... mailed out from Portland... have been coming in for two days for the big cocktail party... which Ned and Joann Crawford will give in the Starlight Patio at El Mirador on Sunday night... and they are just about the biggest I've ever seen...

Designed as a blueprint (and that size)... there's a map of their flight route from rainy Portland to sunny Palm Springs... actually this came close to being reversed... They arrived after our rainfall...

There's a map of the Village... with a stake on the Ranch Club where they're staying... and a big drawing of El Mirador Tower of the Stars... where the party will be held... The menu is listed... including all kinds of seafood that will be flown down from Oregon for the buffet... and there are all kinds of clever quips... like "we finally found a place to stay because all the Kenastons aren't in town at one time"... and speaking of the Beachcomber... "after three Navy grogs you can't tell the time O'Dea"... Pat that is... Oh well, these invitations are classics and you'll just have to see them... Over 100 were sent out...

Millie and Bob Considine (America's Number One columnist) arrives tomorrow afternoon... in time to be guests of honor at a big western party... to be given by their hosts Jerri and Stewart Hopps... Bob will be here a couple of days and Millie about a fortnight...

The party which will be a western chuckwagon... with guests in western clothes... will be held at the house the Hopps have leased for the season... the James Hammond home on Hermosa Place...

Nancy and Ralph Kiner... who have leased their Thunderbird home for the winter... stayed at the Racquet Club when they were here last weekend...

Tom and Theodora Fleming checked in at the Desert Inn Wednesday... and plan to be here for a month or so... long enough that all their LaJolla friends gave them going away parties...

The Flemings have had invitations out for weeks for their big party at El Mirador tomorrow night... and expect around 100 at the black tie affair...

Among the guests will be the Oliver Rousseaus of San Francisco... who are houseguests of Vicki and Billy Malouf... The Rousseaus' annual visit always occasions social events... and invitations are out for a Drop-In Luncheon... which the Maloufs will host at their Via Las Palma home on March 9th...

Kay and Howard Morris have their invitations out for a cocktail buffet... which they will hold in the Venetian Room at the Tennis Club on March 21...

The Beer Festival at El Mirador continued on its merry way Wednesday night... with the biggest crowd I've seen there yet... They had moved the serving tables out of the Starlight Patio into the adjoining private dining room... so they could set up extra tables in the patio... and they were still turning unhappy dozens of people away...

Elmore-Storla Marriage In Attractive Setting

Four-foot-high baskets filled with gladioli and snapdragons made an attractive setting for the high noon wedding Wednesday of Dorothy Storla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Anderson of 2067 East Alejo Road and Ernest Elmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Elmore of Melvern, Kansas. The young couple repeated their vows before close family and friends in a double ring ceremony performed by Judge Eugene Theriault at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a light weight beige wool suit with accessories of tangerine and wore a corsage of white orchids. She was attended by Mrs. Jacque Sexton of Redwood City who acted as maid of honor. Best man was Robert Hyle of San Bernardino. Following the wedding a reception, catered by Jack Boyer, included champagne and a tiered wedding cake.

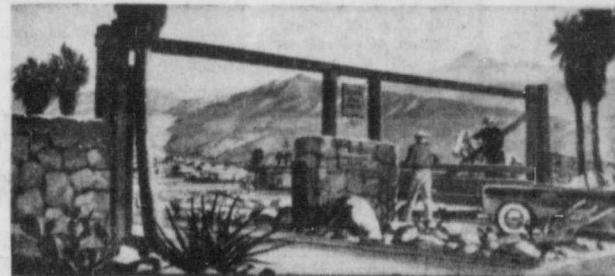

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shidler of Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. John Byers of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shidler of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cappa of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heath and four children of Windsor, Connecticut, (she is the sister of the bride) and Josephine Elmore who is research attorney for the Supreme Court of the State of California and sister of the groom. The new Mrs. Elmore attended Middlebury College in Vermont and is a graduate of Barnard College in New York where she studied social service work. Her husband is a lieutenant on the state police force in San Bernardino and, after a honeymoon in Northern California, the young couple will make their home in San Bernardino.

BLUE SKIES TRAILER VILLAGE
Bing Crosby's "Waldorf Astoria of the Desert"
Located on Highway 111, adjacent to Tamarisk and Thunderbird Country Clubs.
Blue Skies is a devastating oasis of spacious lawn, desert rock design and modern architecture.
Harry Heath, Bing's general manager, describes the accommodations in his "village" "to be comparable to New York's luxurious and individual Park Avenue apartments; where neighbors may meet while airing their French Poodles or at an invitational party in the club house, but otherwise they may enjoy complete privacy of their desert retreat."

Tribal Council At Dinner

With four of the Tribal Council members present, Palm Springs Business and Professional Women's Club had "Agua Caliente Indians" as their theme, when they held a dinner meeting at the Biltmore Tuesday evening.
Indian handicraft of bowls and dolls and beautiful arrangements of purple and white stock and yellow daisies, decorated the dinner tables, and were an arrangement by Marian Aerns.
A delicious meal of sirloin tips, baked potatoes, green beans, strawberry shortcake and after dinner wine was served.
Nettie Erwin, program chairman, introduced Ray Simpson, attorney for the Agua Caliente Tribal Council, from Long Beach. He described the project to be developed on Section 14 by Samuel W. Banowitz, lessee who has made the first long term lease of Palm Springs Indian land, relating that the Indian Tribal Council had worked two and one half years to make this project possible. It will include a beautiful bath house at the Mineral Spa, the mineral waters being 104 degrees, and also a luxury hotel. He indicated that work would start very soon and be carried on during the summer so that it would be ready by next season, and congratulated the Tribal Council, Viola Olinger, chairman; Gloria Gillette, vice chairman; Eileen Miguel, secretary; Dora Joyce Prieto, member; and Laverne Saubel, member; on their foresight in helping to improve Palm Springs, not only benefiting the Indians, but the community and the whole desert area. All were present except the chairman, who was unable to attend.

Lorna Little gave a humorous sketch about attending a baseball game.
Guests included Mrs. Adeline Giddens, aunt of Nettie Erwin; Mrs. Bella de Castro (she is a native of Yugoslavia and formerly very active in the export business); Marion Monette, So. District president of B&PW Clubs; Estelle Reutlinger, president of Cathedral City Club.
Bernice Jacobson, membership chairman, gave the procedure for joining the B&PW Club and asked prospective members to call her or see her at the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce for further information.

Guild Holds Lenten Tea at Stokbak Home

Pastel snapdragons brought a breath of spring into the Cactus Drive home of Mrs. J. H. Stokbak when the Guild of St. Paul's in the Desert held their first Lenten Tea there on Tuesday.

Snappdragons were used as a centerpiece on the tea table which was covered with an exquisite lace tablecloth. Following the business meeting Reverend William Blondon rector of St. Paul's, gave an interesting talk.

Mrs. Frank W. Camp and Mrs. Lennie Linkletter poured tea for the more than 50 ladies who were present.

Assisting the hostess were Mmes. David McGahey, Hilton McCabe, A. H. Nehl, Lea Adamson and Grace Stovall.
The next meeting of the Guild will be a tea held at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Dant, 210 El Camino Way on March 11. The speaker of the afternoon will be the Reverend Nicholas Kouletis, rector of St. John's parish in Corona. All parishioners and friends are invited.

Stokowski Predicts Great Growth in Cultural Future

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is an intense musical creative heat in America now—I believe we are at the start of a great growth, a renaissance, of cultural life."

Leopold Bolelawicz Stanislaw Antoni Stokowski, commonly known as Stok, is the proprietor of what may be the best known set of hands in the country. He spread them wide in a maestro's gesture as he made that statement.

"LOOK AT THIS," he said, hefting a looseleaf book. "I receive scores from all over the world, and these are my notations of thousands I have studied. There's an extremely talented young generation of composers arising in the U.S. and Canada. In the last 10 or 12 years there has been a marked growth of our composers."

"A second evidence of the musical renaissance is the fact that orchestras are springing up all over the country. I conduct the Houston Symphony Orchestra, but there are two others in the same city. Many cities have three orchestras."

"AND ANOTHER thing—I notice more and more talented individual artists, instrumentalists and singers."

Stokowski began waving his eloquent hands before symphony orchestras as a conductor more than 50 years ago and has pursued his career through the concert halls of many cities—in radio, on records and in four movies. But he does not care to dwell in the past.

"I am interested in the future. You can model the future like clay in your hands. This spring I will conduct in France, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Russia. I notice wherever you go, people are always the same."

"IN THE WORLD of politics, there is the frontier, the border, between peoples. But not in music. In each of those countries, my programs will be half American and half the music of that country."

Would his America selections be very modern?

"It will be all new American music, composed within the last four years. And two of the works were composed in the last four months."

How come he's using such new American stuff?

"Because I like it," Stokowski replied emphatically.

Why?

"It's beautiful, dynamic, an expression of life today—because it's good music."

To the Pueblo and Navajo Indians of New Mexico, corn is a sacred substance, used as a symbol for all fertility. Corn meal, ceremonially ground, is scattered in various directions on most ritual occasions.

Freeholders Start Work On Final Charter Draft

Members of the County Board of Freeholders today reported that they are "almost certain" that their proposed county charter will be drafted in its final form and ready for signature March 10.

The board this week completed its second reading of the proposed charter after reversing a previous decision to require County Supervisors to set their own salaries.

BOARD MEMBERS will meet at 2 p.m., Monday, in the County Supervisors' chambers to review the final charter draft.

The 27th meeting of the board ended this week as members unanimously agreed to leave the salary setting for supervisors exactly as it is today, instead of requiring them to set their own salaries.

McGrew Exhibit Starts Saturday

PALM DESERT — Oil paintings by artist Brownell McGrew will be exhibited at the Desert Magazine building here starting Saturday, March 1.

Paintings of desert and mountain scenes as well as portraits will be exhibited, admission free, for the next three weeks.

aries as provided in a previously approved charter provision.

At present, supervisorial salary changes must be initiated by the Grand Jury, approved by the supervisors and enacted by the State Legislature.

THE BOARD ALSO voted unanimously on a proposal that will require constables to submit monthly reports indicating how much work each of them is actually doing, reported Board Chairman Fred Eldridge.

Proposed by Ellsworth B. Cordell, of Riverside, this amendment will be added to other charter provisions which provide that constables should be paid by salary and not by fee. The provision also stipulates that these salaries should depend on the work load.

Penn Phillips Announces New Desert Project

Plans for development of a multi-million-dollar community on 110 square miles of land in the Mojave Desert were disclosed today by the M. Penn Phillips Enterprises, of Azusa.

The company is also engineering development of "Salton City," a community building project proposed for 19,600 acres of desert land on the Salton Sea.

Phillips, in association with N. K. Mendelsohn, said his Mojave Valley project will create a community of 5,000 homes, serving Edwards Air Force Base, the Naval Ordnance Test Station and the expanding desert industry of east Kern County.

MAYOR JERRY SANBORN POURS coffee for Village fireman I. C. Ritter following dedication ceremonies for the new Indian Avenue Fire Station. Waiting for their coffee are, left to right, John Kline, one of the city's original fire commissioners and a volunteer fire fighter since 1932, and Fireman Dick Poist. Ritter, an engineer, has served with the Palm Springs Fire Department for 14 years. This informal koffee klatch took place in the station's glittering kitchen, a unit that features all the latest built-in fixtures. It's quite a change from the old fire station building on Palm Canyon Drive, firemen agree. (Desert Sun Photo)
